GIORDANO

Serving the poultry world

GIORDANO GLOBAL

Giordano is the brand that represents the most comprehensive and cutting-edge product offering for the poultry and veterinary sector.

With more than 60 years of experience in the design and manufacture of plastic substrates, the various areas of the group are able to respond to different needs through specific expertise.

In line with its Vision and therefore always keen to anticipate the evolution of its offering, Giordano Global has constantly strengthened the relationship between its R&D department and the market.

All products in the entire Giordano Global range have been subdivided into four areas of use: transport, farm equipment, egg handling and vaccination devices.

Giordano Global's product range is constantly geared towards technological evolution and, on a daily basis, more in line with the growing needs of animal farming.

Giordano Global's commercial organisation is made up of seven Business Units that allow the brand to operate in all continents of the world.

As outlined in its Mission Statement, the stake of the brand’s companies is to conduct business that creates value in a safe and sustainable way for customers, staff and the environment.

Due to ethical and practical reasons, Giordano Global decided to add all specific details about products only on digital communication material.
No catalogue, in fact, could ever be as complete and constantly updated as on online formats, so all products can be consulted in detail on the website.
This choice minimises waste and is good for both customers and the environment.
